"Mr. Wadsworth," replied George

if you do not be still and let me run

this affair, I'll throw the pistols to the floor, and your brother and his friends

may do as they bally please. Now, step back and be quiet. Stop!" to Ry-anne, whose hand was reaching out

"Don't shoot, Percival: I want only a final glass of wine." Ryanne calmly took the slender stem of the glass between his fingers, lifted it and drank.

He set it down empty. From his outside pocket he drew a handkerchief and delicately dried his lips. He alone of his confederates had life. It was because he alone understood.

Prison wasn't staring him in the face

just yet. "Well, Arthur, old top, how goes it? Nearly got your money-bags, didn't we? And we surely would have

"Damn you and your wine!" roared the Major, shaking with rage. This adventure had been no joke to him, no craving for excitement. He wanted the gold, the gold. With what would have been his share he could have gambled at Monte Carlo and Ostend till the end of his days. For the first time he saw long, black bars of fron running up and down a window. And

"Damn away, old sport!" Ryanne reached for the bottle and filled his glass again. "Percival, I'm blamed sorry about that olive-tree of yours."

He waved his hand toward the bags.

You can see that my intentions in regard to refunding that hundred pounds were strictly honorable. Now,

"I suppose your luggage is outside

"Well, I need not explain my reasons; you will understand them; but am going to give you all two hours'

You will have to take your chance

The circling faces brightened perceptibly. Two hours-that would car-

"Accepted with thanks," said Ry-

"I refuse to permit it!" yelled the brother. "Mr. Jones, you will rue this night's work. I shall see that the law looks into your actions. This is felony. I demand to be allowed to tele-him shout; it will soften his voice.

He will hurt nobody. The wires were his grasp relax. Arthur Wadsworth grew limp and recled against the jamb

"You had better start at once."

George advised. "You three first."

with a nod toward Wallace (his bulhous nose now lavender in hue), the butler and the first-man. "Forward

"In a moment." George could not but admire the man, rascal though he was. There was a pang of regret in his heart as the thought came and went swiftly: what a comrade this man would have made under different circumstances! Too late! "Halt!" he door came to a stop, their heads turned inquiringly. "Here, Mr. Mortimer; take one of these guns and cover the Major. He's the one I doubt." Then George followed the bade them God-speed as he opened stupidly; the wine had dulled them.

Neither Fortune nor her mother had stirred in all this time. A quality of hypnotism held them in bondage. The mother could not lower her glance

no one will know the full bitterness could have rent her clothes, torn her skin, pulled her hair; and yet she sat

there without physical sign of the

On her side, Fortune knew, that, had there been a single gesture inviting pity, she must have flown to her moth er's side. But there was no sign.

Finally, Fortune stepped back, chilled.

"Fortune," said George, terribly embarrassed, "do you wish to speak to

"No." It was a little word, spoken

Mrs Chedsoye rose and proceeded

"Mother!" This came in a gasp to put on her furs, which she had

from the elder Wadsworth An under standing of this strange proceeding flung across the back of her chair.

library.

tempest.

it was all too late.

your mother, alone?"

in a little, hushed tone.

young girl's mother!

"What shout me?" asked Ryanne march, front door. Go on!"

Mortimer felt the tense muscles in

"Let

him!" cried Ryanne wearily.

all for a bottle of wine!

what's on the ticket?"

ry them far into Jersey.

in the automobiles?"

but for this delicious vintage."

toward the table.

SYNOPSIS.

George Percival Algernon Jones, vice-president of the Metropolitan Oriental Rug company of New York, thirsting for romance, is in Cairo on a business trip. Horace Ryanne arrives at the hotel in Cairo with a carefully guarded bundle. Ryanne sells Jones the famous holy Yhi-ordes rug which he admits having stolen from a pasha at Bagdad. Jones meets Major Callahan and later is introduced to Fortune Chedsove by a woman to whom Major Callahan and later is introduced to Fortune Chedsoye by a woman to whom he had loaned 150 pounds at Monte Carlo some months previously, and who turns out to be Fortune's mother. Jones takes Mrs. Chedsoye and Fortune to a pologame. Fortune returns to Jones the money borrowed by her mother. Mrs. Chedsoye appears to be engaged in some mysterious enterprise unknown to the daughter. Ryanne interests Jones in the United Romance and Adventure company, a concern which for a price will arrange any kind of an adventure to order. Mrs. Chedsoye, her brother, Major Callahan, Wallace and Ryanne, as the United Romance and Adventure company, plan a risky enterprise involving Jones. Callaham Wallace and Ryanne, are the United Competer of the Mark Chedosye has intention to marry Fortune. Mrs. Chedosye declares she will not permit it. Plans are laid to prevent Jones sailing for home. Byanne steals Jones' letters and cable dispatches. He wires agent in New York in Jones' name, that he is renting house in New York to some triends. Mahomed, keeper of the holy carpet, is on Ryannes trail Ryanne friends. Mahomed, keeper of the holy carpet, is on Ryannes trail Ryanne the provided of the purchase of the rug. Mahomed accosts Ryanne and demands the Phiores rug. Ryanne tells him Jones has the rug and surgests the abduction of the New York merchant as a means of securing its return. The rug disappears from Jones' room. Fortune quarrels with her mother mysterious actions. Fortune Rets a message purporting to be from Ryanne asking him to meet him in a sectude sease purporting to be from Ryanne and formed and unconscious. Hyanne recovers consciousness and the sight of Fortune in captivity reveals to him the fact that Mahomed intends to get vengenness of the will free all three of them. Mahomed agrees to liberate Fortune and one of the men in return for the rug. A coursier is sent to Cairo for the rug. A coursier is beautiful to the rug. A co United Romance and Adventoring Jones, plan a risky enterprise involving Jones, Ryanne makes known to Mrs. Chedsoye Ryanne makes known to Mrs.

CHAPTER XXI .- (Continued). "We could have taken every dollar from the vault," said Wallace cheer-

"But we couldn't have made our getaway with it," observed the butler, holding his empty glass toward Ryanne, who was acting as master of ceremonies.

"A clear, unidentified million," mused Ryanne. "Into the cars with it; over to Jersey City; on to Philadelphia; but there for Europe; quietly transfer the gold to the various cried. The trio marching toward the Continental banks; and in six months. who could trace hair or hide of it?" Ryanne laughed.

"It's all right to laugh," said the "But are you sure about Jones? He could have arrived this others into the hall and ironically afternoon."

"Impossible! He left Alexandria for the door for them. They went out Naples on a boat that stopped but thirty hours. With Fortune on his George immediately returned to the hands he could not possibly sail before the following week, and maybe not then. Sit tight. I know what I am talking about." "He might cable."

"So he might. But if he had we'd and the daughter would not. If there have heard from him before now. I'm was a light of triumph in Fortune's going to tell you a secret. My name eyes, it was unconsciously there. And s not Ryanne."

"We all know that," said the Major. that shone from the mother's. She "It's Wadsworth. Does that tickle could have screamed with fury; she your mind any?"

The men shook their heads. Mrs. Chedsoye did not move bers. "Bah! Greatest joke of the hour.

I'm Horace Wadsworth, and Arthur Wadsworth, president of the Merchant-Mechanic Bank, is my beloved brother!" "Ay, damnable wretch!"

A shock ran through them all. In the doorway leading to the rear hall stood George, his revolvers leveled steadily. Peering white-faced over his shoulder was the man who had spoken, Arthur Wadsworth.

CHAPTER XXII.

The End of the Puzzle. The elder brother tried to push past George, but old Mortimer caught him by the shoulders and dragged him began to filter through his mind. The back.

"Let me go!" he cried, his voice nasal and high. "Do you hear me? Let slowly. She offered them to the Ma-"Mr. Mortimer," said George, without turning his head or letting his neer. But Ryanne was instantly at times, but their sources are involved like John Phoenix-Squibob, eye waver, "keep him back. Thanks." George stepped over the threshold. watched his agile fingers at work over Nile. Omelettes taste as if they had "Now gentlemen, I shall shoot the first man who makes a movement."

about George, saw that he meant just the hall. Ryanne paused. what he said. "Steady, every one," he said. "My friend George here can't shoot; but that kind of a man is deadliest with a pistol. I surrender."

The brother was struggling, "The telephone! The telephone! I demand pocket. Old top, farewell! Who was until it is old. Fool that I am! As gracious Margaret takes the place of to call the police. This is accessory it, Brutus or Caesar, who said: I go if the taverns did not know that if it these napkin bearing animals.—Oliver then look to your sleek, sanctimoplous neck! You chucked me down the road to hell, and the pity of it is, some day must meet you there! Fortune, child," his voice becoming sad, "you your prayers to-night. Percival, a that bally old rug there, you'll always and cruel!" see me, the fire, the tents, the camels and the desert, and the moon in the date-palms. By-by!" And presently they were gone.

ows; yes, I shall come again; and rudely.

her mother. Do you understand me now?"

The banker signified that he did. He sat down, rather subdued. Then the steal. He counted roughly a mil-A million! He felt sick and into Eden." It would have wrecked the bank, wiped it out of existence. And saved by the merest, the most trifling chance! A bottle of wine! He resumed his chair and sat there wonderingly till the time-limit expired.

The public never heard how nearly he Merchant-Mechanic had gone to the wall; nor how six policemen had barn." He laughed joyously, worked till dawn carrying back the gold; nor that the banker had not even thanked them for their labor. been to send the story forth to the hand in hand, staring down at the ture his brother; but his foresight from Bagdad. becoming normal, he realized that silence was best, even if his brother escaped. If the depositors heard that the bank had been entered and a million taken from the vaults, there would naturally follow a terrific run. When the last bag had been taken out of the library and the banker and the police had gone, the bell rang. George went to the door. A messenger handed him a small satchel and a note. There was to be no reply. The note was from Ryanne. Briefly it stated that the satchel contained the emeralds. There had been some difficulty in forcing the Major to surrender them. But that much was due to George for his generosity. Later in the day he-George-might inform his -Horace's-brother that the coup hadn't been a total fizzle. They had time. Then I shall notify the police. already packed away in suit-cases something like two hundred thousand years of life .- Harper's Weekly, dollars in bills of all denominations. "Tell that dear brother of mine to charge it to our account. It will be less than the interest upon a million face and voice swiftly. "You sneak- of cheese would go handy. It's almost ing blackguard, you cheater of widmy breakfast time.

"Bless your heart, help yourself!" And George turned to Fortune. "Ah," she cried, seizing his hands, you will not think ill of me?"

"And for what?" astonished. "For not speaking to my mother. might remember a poor beggar in Oh, I just couldn't: I just couldn't! When I thought of all the neglect, farewell to you. We shall never meet all the indifference, the loneliness. again. But when you stand upon couldn't! It was horribly unnatural

"I understand, heart of mine. Say no more about it." And he put his two hands against her cheeks and kissed her. "Never shall you be lonemoment later those remaining could by again, for I am going to be all hear the chug-chug of the motors as things to you. Foor heart! Just think they sped away. The banker was first that all that has passed has been to recover from the spell. He rushed only a bad dream, and that it's clear for the hall, but George stopped him sunshiny morning; eh?" He held her off a ways and then swept her into "Two hours, if you please. I never his arms as he had done on board the break my word. Your money is all ship, roughly shd masterly. "And there. If you do not act reasonably, there's that old rug! Talk about I'll throw you down and sit on you magic carsets! There never was one till the time is up. Sit down, I do just like his. But for it I shouldn't not propose that my future wife shall even have Rrown you. And, by Jove! appear in court as a witness against when the minister comes this afternoon

"This afternoon!" I are going to stand upon that beauhe got up nervously and inventoried tiful, friendly old rug, and Soth of us are going to be whisked right away

"Please!" Silence

"How brave you are!" "I? Oh, pshaw!"

"Would you have shot one of hem?"

your Percival Algernon "Girl. couldn't have hit the broad side of a "I knew it. And that is why I call you brave.' And when the pale gold of winter The first impulse of the banker had dawn filled the room, it found them, world, to harass and eventually cap- old Yhiordes, the magic old Yhiordes

THE END.

Long-Lived Birds,

It used to be contended that ravens lived longer than any other species of birds, and it was said that their age frequently exceeded a century. Recent studies of the subject indicate that no authentic instance of a raven surpassing seventy years of age is of record. But parrots have been known to attain an age of one hundred years. There is a record of a golden eagle which died at Schoenbrun at the age of 118 years. Another golden eagle was kept in the Tower of London for 90 years. A third died at Vienna aged 104 years. Geese and swans are tenacious of life, and extraordinary accounts exist of the great age that they have attained. Buffon and other authorities have credited them with eighty and one hundred

From Smiles to Thrills. "Fashions change in politics as well as in literature." "Yes," replied Sen-

"I Am Going to Give You All Two Hours' Time."

Fortune favors the brave!" kitchen? A bottle of beer and a bit in current slang."

in ten years. To you, my boy, I add: | ator Sorghum. "Candidates used to appeal to an audience with humor or "George," said Mortimer, "you will sentiment. Now we are compelled to not mind if I forage vound in the give 'em mysterious plots or studies power in building up size and draft

His Preference for Home

Any Real Pleasure in the Vaunted "Tavern."

Don't talk to me about taverns! Mrs. Chedsoye drew on her gloves There is just one genuine, clean, decent, palatable thing occasionally to jor to button. He flung the hands be had in them-namely, a boiled egg. its "properties," its beds and pots and aside. He was not nice under the ve- The soups taste pretty good someher service. And curiously she in a darker mystery than that of the the buttons; they were perfectly been carried in the waiter's hat, or steady. Then, followed by the Major fried in an old boot. I ordered scram- ry and tea has still faint recollections And Ryanne, who knew something and Ryanne, she walked easily toward bled eggs one day. It must be that they had been scrambled for by some-"Good night, Arthur. I'm sure you body, but who-who in the possession will not sleep well. That handsome of a sound reason could have scramsafe is irreparably damaged. I dare bled for what I had set before me unsay you will find a way to cover the der that name? Butter! I am wonder- if it had "eyes" (which it has not), loss without any injury to your own ing why the taverns always keep it and where the comely Anne or the the facts I tell you, let me go! but to return'?" The banter left his was good it would be eaten, which is Wendell Holmes.

Oliver Wendell Holmes Unable to Get | not what they want. Then the waiters, with their napkins-what don't they do with those napkins! Mention any one thing of which you think you car say with truth, "That they do not do."

Every six months a tavern should burn to the ground, with all its traps, kettles and start afresh from its ashes No; give me home, or a home like mine, where all is clean and sweet, where coffee has pre-existed in the berof the pigtails that dangled about the plant from which it was picked, where butter has not the prevailing character which Pope assigned to Denham, where soup could look you in the face

GOOD SEED CORN TEST

"Rag Doll Baby" Pronounced as Greatest of Infants.

Cheapest Tester Which Can Be Made -All That is Needed is Few Yards of Sheeting of Good Qaulity, Torn Into Strips.

The Rag Doll Baby, scientifically known as the rag doll seed corn tester, has been pronounced the greatest infant of recent years. Also the most popular because it has been nursed by a majority of the school children of the United States.

Not only did this pet in its first year make two blades of grass grow for one, but it claims credit for last year's banner corn crop. It is said to have added millions to the crop's value.

This is merely an inexpensive arrangement whereby progressive farmers and their children test seed corn before planting. Half a dozen kernels of corn are taken from each ear "Exactly! When he comes, you and of seed corn, the kernels are laid on numbered squares of cloth, the cloth dampened and rolled together and loosely tied. A score or more of "bables" are placed in a pail or tub of lukewarm water and left there for about 12 to 18 hours. Five to eight days later the cloths are carefully unrolled and the kernels examined carefully. In all cases in which all the kernels are not strong in germination the ear should be thrown away, for no farmer can afford to plant seed that will not germinate.

"Rag Doll" Tester and Rolls.

For the rag doll test buy a few yards of sheeting of good quality and tear it into strips 8 inches wide and planned to use the strips a number of times, hem the edges, as otherwise the ravelings sometimes disarrange the kernels in unrolling. There is no cheaper, more convenient and accurate method of testing seed corn than by the rag doll tester. A few of its advantages are:

The cheapest tester which can be Anyone can make the tester in moment's time Corn may be placed in the tester and the test read approximately as quickly as any other tester. If one wishes to use the "water" method, the construction of this tester is well adapted for this. If saturated atmosphere with moist cloth contact is desired, this may be secured by leaving the rolls in the water only long enough to become thoroughly moistened.

Less mold develops in this tester than any other. May be disinfected for mold most easily. Very compact, and can be from one place to another without difficulty. All parts of the kernel, roots, hoots, etc., can be readily seen. Gives an accurate test, as indicated by field results.

Business Methods Needed.

Few owners of the smaller poultry plant know what percentage of profits their flocks do yield. Many of these may know how much they spend for feed during the year, and how many eggs the hens laid within the twelve one made of a two-gallon can cut in your poultry plant.

GENERAL

When the small weeds are killed there will be no big ones.

Give the team many breathing spells during the first weeks of spring work Whenever a farmer gets the auto fever he at once becomes a good-road preacher.

That producer is most successful who keeps himself best in the line of the works.

The ground for sweet clover seed should be prepared the same as for alfaifa or clover. Go slow with the first few days plowing; the horses are soft, and must be worked in carefully. In a corn-growing territory cowpeas are mostly grown with corn, sowing broadcast or otherwise. The clover seed crop depends very largely upon the condition of the ground and the weather. To kill Canadian thistle in a field put the field in some cultivated crop and keep the weeds down,

The pedigreed sire has been the form in our American stock of horses. Many growers say that weeds are as valuable as fertilizers as clover and cowpeas if they are turned under every year.

alfalfa field and spread on land to insert other scions, and the following be sown to alfalfa is a very good way | year complete the work. to inoculate it. Rotation of crops is one of the simple, practical methods of increasing e productivity of the farm and distributing labor. There is nothing that produces ness faster than standing in a stall day after day. In stallion service fees a man generally gets just about what he pays day and in four months wean him. Soundness should be the basis in selecting a draft stallion. The farmer often makes a mistake by trying to do too much. Till less ground and cultivate it better and there will be more profit in it. No matter how good a breeding boar fects as a feeder, as well as those of the sowe with which he is mated.

SHEEP REQUIRE MUCH SAL.

Best Method is to Keep Substance Before Animals at All Times-Only Mineral Needed.

Sheep on pasture are often neglected as far as salting is concerned. They are either salted irregularly or not at all. When salt is not supplied to them in sufficient quantities they crave it intensely, and, as has been demonstrated by experiments, will not make the gains nor grow the wool they will if properly salted, says the National Stockman. Salt is often considered a seasoning for the food of animals and not an essential. It is the only mineral which ordinarily needs to be supplied to livestock. No sheep can do its best without enough Salting every few days is sufficient for the needs of the sheep, but it is not as good a method as keeping salt before the sheep all the time, as when a rush of work comes or a visiting time comes salting the sheep is one of the things neglected. When salt is given after a period of neglect the sheep are so eager for it that they take too much and large quantities of water are needed to wash it out of the system, some of this being drawn from the tissues of the body to the detriment of the sheep.

VALUE OF FARMYARD MANURE

There Are Various Losses in Quantity Which Constituents Suffer Before Reaching Fields.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.) Remember that the constituents of animal excrement are in the condition of greatest value as manure at | not good." the time when they leave the animals; after mixing with litter and piled in the barnyard their value is greatly reduced

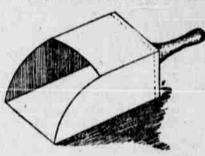

During the fermentation of the manure with the straw and refuse of the stable and barnyard, the constituents enter into new combination the ammonia produced, which contains the nitrogen combines with the humic acids formed from the decomposing litter, forming insoluble compounds. Thus they are not so quickly available from three to five feet long. If it is to the plants as the original excre-

There are also various losses in quantity which the constituents may suffer before they reach the land. In the yard much urine may run to waste. Ammonia will disappear as gas in the stable during the decomposition of the urine, and further loss of nitrogen may occur in the barn-

USEFUL ARTICLES FOR BARN

Scoop Illustrated Made of Old Gallon-Can-Convenient Size for Bran or Mill-feed Bin.

Half-gallon, gallon and two-gallon cans, such as those in which varnish, oils, paints and maple syrup are put up-any of these may be made into useful articles for house or barn. The scoop illustrated is made of an

Grain Scoop Easily Made.

months, but further than that they the same shape. The dotted lines next cannot give any figures of the cost of to the handle show the position of an production or the actual profits from inch board that should fit the bottom the sales. Adopt business methods in of the can real tight, so that the can may be tacked to this piece of wood and the handle is fastened to the scoop by a large wood screw running through the bottom of the can into the end of the handle. Do not use these scoops in the salt barrel, as the salt will soon rust them so they will be unfit for use. For the salt barrel a scoop may be made of wood by nailing four pieces of boards together and cutting to a shape similar to the scoop shown in the drawing.

Neglected Artichoke.

This plant which can be grown in almost any garden makes a delicious change in the vegetable dishes for the table. The plant is perennial but declines rapidly and should be reset every three years.

It is propagated from seed and the suckers are set out producing edible heads the second year. The heads are from three to four inches in diameter and are ready to cut for the table just before they open.

For picking the heads are often taken when about half grown. The leaves are sometimes blanched and eaten and these form the salad plants which are seen on the market.

Top-Working Apple Trees. Apple trees up to a foot in diameter may be top-worked, if unsatisfactory. Care, however, should be used that too much of the top is not removed in any one year. Cut off about onethird of the top the first year and insert scions on stubs not more than two or three inches in diameter. The Soil taken from a well-established next year remove more of the top and Weaning a Kid.

When one has sale for their goat's milk the kids should be taken from the mother immediately and fed from a bottle because cow's milk is cheaper stiffness, inflammation and unsound than goat's milk. Dilute the cow's milk, sweeten slightly and the little fellow will soon learn to like it. Give a kid the bottle six or seven times a

Doing Chores After Dark.

As a rule doing chores after dark does not pay. It is as important that chores are well done as any of the day's work, hence they should be done in daylight. There may be times you select, he cannot correct your de | when it will be well to run the choring into the night, but as a rule the practice should be to do them in daylight.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Nervousness Caused by Female Ills-Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Auburn, N. Y .- "I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did. not want anyone totalk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound a trial and now I am in good health." - Mrs. WILLIAM H. GILL, 15 Pleasant Street, Auburn, New York.

"Doctor's Daughter Took It." St. Cloud, Minn .- "I was so run down by overwork and worry that I could not stand it to have my children talk aloud or walk heavy on the floor. One of my friends said, 'Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I know a dector's daughter here in town who takes it and she would not take it if it were

"I sent for the Compound at once and. kept on taking it until I was all right." -Mrs Bertha M. Quickstadt, 727 5th. Avenue, S., St. Cloud, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon as the most-efficient remedy for female ills. Why don't you try it?

Much of World Unexplored, Despite the discovery of both poles, large portion of the earth still remains unexplored. Roughly, it is estimated that about 7,000,000 squaremiles, or approximately one-eighth of the total land surface of the world, is still a mystery to civilization. Included in this area are vast tracts of polar region, portions of Arabia, jungles and mountains in South America, spreading wastes in Australia, regions in the Himalayas, dark haunts in Borneo, and the Congo basin, and stretches of the Sahara.

FACE ALMOST COVERED WITH PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

Atchison, Kan.-"For a number of years I suffered very greatly from skin eruption. My face was very red and irritated, being almost covered with pimples and blackheads. The pimples were scattered over my face. They were a fine rash with the exception of a few large pimples on my forehead oil can that holds one galion. This is and chin. My face burned and looker a convenient size for the bran or mill- red as if exposed to either heat or feed bin, but for the oats bin I want cold. It was not only unsightly but very uncomfortable. I tried several remedies but couldn't get any relief. was recommended to use Cuticurs

Soap and Cuticura Ointment. "I applied the Cuticura Ointment in the evening, leaving it for about five minutes, then washing it off with Cuticura Soap and hot water. I wash ed with the Cuticura Soap and hot water also several times during the day. After about four months of this application, my face was cleared of the pimples. I still use the Cuticurs Soap." (Signed) Miss Elsie Nielson, Dec. 29, 1911. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 82-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

No End to This. "Pa, what is meant by 'ad infinitum'?' "That's the same thing, my son, as every valet having a valet."

Atlasi Ethel-After you refused Jack, did he propose again? Maud-Yes, but it was to another girl. Mrs. Winsiew's Scothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflamma-tion, allays pain, cures wind code, 25c a bottle.

Make the best of your life. You may never get another chance to be happy.

Generally means helping an entire family: Her back aches so she can hardly drag; around. Her nerves are on edge and she is nearly wild. Headache and Sleeplessness unfit her for the care of her family. Rheumatic Pains and Lumbago rack her and healthy activity for Foley Kidney Pills are healing, curative, strengthening and tonic, a medicine for all Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases that always cures.

The Army of Constipation Is Growing Smaller Every Day. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are not only give relief - they permanentlycure Con-

SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature

W. N. U., SIOUX CITY, NO. 18-1918